Agenda item 40

THE SITUATION IN CENTRAL AMERICA:

PROCEDURES FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A FIRM AND LASTING PEACE AND
PROGRESS IN FASHIONING A REGION OF PEACE, FREEDOM, DEMOCRACY AND DEVELOPMENT

SECURITY COUNCIL

Fifty-second year

Identical letters dated 5 February 1997 from the Secretary-General addressed to the President of the General Assembly and to the President of the Security Council

I have the honour to transmit herewith the texts of the last two agreements pertaining to the Guatemala peace process, which were signed by the Peace Commission of the Government of Guatemala (COPAZ) and the General Command of the Unidad Revolucionaria Nacional Guatemalteca (URNG) under the auspices of the United Nations on 29 December 1996.

The Agreement on the Implementation, Compliance and Verification Timetable for the Peace Agreements (annex I) was signed by the parties at Guatemala City on 29 December 1996 in the presence of the United Nations Moderator, Mr. Jean Arnault. The Agreement is a detailed guide for the implementation of all the commitments undertaken by the parties in agreements signed since 1994. It sets out a calendar for the phased implementation of those commitments from 1997 to the end of 2000 and for the establishment of the Follow-up Commission to ensure that the process is carried out effectively. The Agreement also requests the Secretary-General to establish a mission to verify all the agreements, into which the current United Nations Mission for the Verification of Human Rights and of Compliance with the Commitments of the Comprehensive Agreement on Human Rights in Guatemala (MINUGUA) is to be absorbed.

The Agreement on a Firm and Lasting Peace (annex II) was signed in the National Palace of Guatemala City on 29 December 1996, in a formal ceremony attended by President Alvaro Arzú, by the Heads of State of numerous nations and by my predecessor, Mr. Boutros Boutros-Ghali, who was, in addition, a signatory to the Agreement. The Agreement brings into effect all the previous agreements encompassing military, political, social, economic and environmental issues and binds them into a comprehensive nationwide agenda for peace. It is a milestone for Guatemala, where it ends 35 years of internal conflict, and for Central America, where it ends the last war in the region and thus completes the principal task which the Presidents of the region set themselves when they signed the Esquipulas II Agreement in 1987.

As requested by the General Assembly in its resolution 51/198 of 17 December 1996, I shall submit recommendations shortly to the Assembly on how the structure and staffing of the current MINUGUA should be redesigned to allow the new mission to fulfil the new responsibilities arising from the signing of the peace agreements.

I should be grateful if you could issue the text of the present letter as a document of the General Assembly, under agenda item 40, and of the Security Council.

(Signed) Kofi A. ANNAN

[Original: Spanish]

Agreement on the Implementation, Compliance and Verification Timetable for the Peace Agreements

Whereas:

The negotiating process has resulted in a national agenda for overcoming the root causes of social, political, economic, ethnic and cultural conflict and also the consequences of the armed conflict,

The implementation of that agenda is a complex, long-term undertaking requiring the determination to fulfil the commitments made and the involvement of the different State bodies and of the country's various social and political forces,

This national undertaking calls for an implementation strategy that sets realistic priorities for gradual fulfilment of the various aspects of the Peace Agreements as and when the political, institutional, financial and technical bases for their implementation are established,

One political basis for the implementation process is the functioning of the various commissions set up under the Agreements, and of other bodies that will facilitate effective consultation and cooperation in building peace,

The Timetable set out in this Agreement provides a time-frame whose purpose is to make this national endeavour viable, as well as its follow-up by the international community, on the basis of a realistic approach and extensive consultation,

Implementation of the Agreements will be facilitated by the establishment of a follow-up mechanism and by international verification, with a view to achieving greater certainty, flexibility and confidence in the implementation process as a whole,

The execution of the Implementation, Compliance and Verification Timetable for the Peace Agreements should encourage all social and political forces to join together in an effort to open a new chapter of development and democratic coexistence in the history of the country,

The Government of Guatemala and the Unidad Revolucionaria Nacional Guatemalteca (URNG) (hereinafter referred to as "the Parties") agree as follows:

I. PRESENTATION OF THE TIMETABLE

1. The implementation and verification timetable set out in this Agreement constitutes a guide for the phased implementation of those commitments set out in the Peace Agreements whose fulfilment can, at this point, be scheduled reliably. The following four types of commitment are therefore not dealt with in the Timetable:

- (a) General and/or ongoing commitments, such as the general commitments entered into under the Comprehensive Agreement on Human Rights;
- (b) Specific commitments subject to constitutional amendments, whose implementation depends on the adoption of such amendments by the Congress of the Republic and on the subsequent referendum;
- (c) Specific commitments whose fulfilment is subject to prior consultation, particularly those commitments whose fulfilment depends on the recommendations of the joint commissions and other commissions set up under the Peace Agreements; and
- (d) Specific commitments whose fulfilment depends on the completion of other types of scheduled action.

2. The Follow-up Commission established under this Agreement shall determine the subsequent timetable for fulfilling the commitments referred to under subparagraphs (b), (c) and (d) above and shall, where necessary, reschedule the commitments set out in this Timetable, in order to ensure the proper implementation of the Peace Agreements.

Strategy

3. The Timetable is divided into three phases: the first covers a 90-day period from 15 January 1997; the second lasts until the end of 1997; and the third covers 1998, 1999 and 2000. The implementation strategy for these three phases is guided by the following needs:

- (a) To adhere to the timetables already laid down in the Agreements;
- (b) To move ahead simultaneously with the implementation of all the Agreements;
- (c) To take into account realistically the human and material resources available in each phase;
- (d) To stagger implementation of the fundamental components of the Agreements, thereby seeking to avoid dissipating governmental and non-governmental implementation efforts;
- (e) To place emphasis, at the beginning of the process of implementing the commitments, on the establishment of the consultation machinery provided for in the Agreements, where provision has been made for such machinery, and on the institutional, legal or financial basis for the implementation of the commitments in question;
- (f) To promote the effective participation of all social sectors in meeting their needs, particularly in establishing public policies concerning them, and accordingly, to set timetables for those actions that depend on the

consensus-building mechanisms provided for in the Agreements, taking into account their outcome; and

(g) In view of the key role which the raising of fiscal revenues and the priority channelling of public spending towards social investment are to play in the implementation of the commitments laid down in the Peace Agreements, the Parties have agreed to set out in an appendix the programming of intermediate annual targets, in relation to gross domestic product (GDP), for increasing the tax burden, increasing public spending on education, health, public security and the justice system, and reducing defence spending in future years. Indicative targets for economic growth for the period 1997-2000 are also set out in the appendix.

Content of the phases

4. Based on the above, the main, but not sole, emphasis in each phase shall be on the following:

- (a) The timetable for the first 90 days shall place emphasis on:
  - (i) Preparing for the implementation of medium- and long-term agreements, particularly by setting up the commissions provided for in the Agreements and by developing and introducing programmes of action in various areas covered by the Agreements;
  - (ii) Carrying out short-term action for which timetables are laid down in the Peace Agreements, particularly the ceasefire process and the process of integrating URNG. The action scheduled on the basis of D-Day is subject to the existence of the necessary conditions for launching the ceasefire process; and
  - (iii) Carrying out other types of action linked to the consequences of the armed conflict, such as developing the programme for compensating victims and continuing to care for refugees and displaced persons;
- (b) The timetable for the remainder of 1997 includes, in addition to the emphasis to be given under subparagraph (a) above, the following:
  - (i) New programmes of action, social investment and investment in production;
  - (ii) Modernization and decentralization of the State;
  - (iii) Public administration reform;
  - (iv) Comprehensive strategy for rural development;
  - (v) Fiscal policy; and
  - (vi) Restructuring of domestic security policy and national defence policy.

(c) In addition to the components referred to under subparagraphs (a) and (b), the timetable for 1998, 1999 and 2000 shall cover action relating to the results of the joint commissions and other commissions provided for by the Agreements. In particular, it shall promote the legislative agenda arising out of the Peace Agreements in four areas: reform of the Penal Code and legal framework for modernizing the administration of justice; issues of land tenure and land use; adaptation of legislation and institutions to the multi-ethnic, multicultural and multilingual nature of Guatemala; and reform of the Guatemalan electoral regime.

5. The Follow-up Commission shall schedule measures resulting from constitutional amendments, once the amendments in question have been adopted.

Implementation of the Timetable

6. With a view to implementing the Timetable, the Parties have divided the commitments set out in the Agreements into four thematic areas:

- (a) Resettlement, integration of URNG and national reconciliation;
- (b) Comprehensive human development;
- (c) Sustainable development of production; and

(d) Modernization of the democratic State, including strengthening of the capacity for participation and consensus-building of the various components of civil society.

7. The corresponding programmes, subprogrammes and projects shall be grouped under each area. The Government has decided that the Peace Secretariat shall be responsible for the technical coordination of its action with a view to implementation in the areas in question.

8. Reiterating that the implementation of the Peace Agreements must enable all the country's social and political forces to undertake in a cooperative and responsible spirit the immediate tasks of fighting poverty, discrimination and privilege, the Government has undertaken to promote such action with the effective participation of all social sectors.

9. The Parties call on the various sectors of Guatemalan society to take a leading role in implementing the development agenda set out in the Agreements. They also call on the international community to continue to support national efforts, particularly during the initial phases of the implementation process, while Guatemala is building its own capacities in the areas of human, institutional and financial resources.
