

COMMINATION BY THE NEGOTIATING COMMISSIONS OF THE GOVERNMENT AND THE SIMÓN BOLÍVAR GUERRILLA COORDINATING BOARD ON THE AGENDA ITEMS

13 March 1992

To energise the talks and make progress toward peace for Colombia, it has been agreed to discuss aspects of the agreed agenda on economic, social and political issues facing the country. Representatives of the various sectors of the country will be jointly invited, together with state officials and specialists on each of the points, without affecting initiatives to analyse these issues being undertaken in the country by civil, political, social and cultural organisations.

The parties agree on the importance of the ceasefire and cessation of hostilities to the country and will make joint efforts to create the conditions for an agreement by addressing the issue through its various components. To start the talks, we have agreed to hold working sessions on the following points: the opening-up of the economy and its social effects, government corruption, human rights, paramilitary activities, aspects of the conflict affecting the civil population, kidnappings, forced disappearances, arbitrary detentions, etc., and the state, democracy, the new constitution and the political system.
